PREFACE.

In the preparation of this genealogy I have been aided by the services and experience of Rev. Anson Titus, 18 Somerset St., Boston, Mass., and the late W. M. Sargent, Esq., of Portland, Me. Both of these men have had large experience with genealogical records, and it gives me pleasure to thus acknowledge their important service especially in searching various court records in Maine and Massachusetts. Others who are personally interested in the record have cheerfully aided me in the work, and I give them my sincere thanks.

START FAMILY.

INTRODUCTION.

In 1866 I began to gather material for the purpose of compiling a record of the Start families and their descendants with the intention of publishing the same when I could make it reasonably complete. I have not been able to trace back the ancestry as far as I had hoped to do, but I have done the work as faithfully as I could, and send out the result for the perusal of those interested of whom there are many scattered in several states from Maine to California.

I have no doubt there will be found errors in the record, but this could hardly be avoided where so much material had to be gathered from scanty and sometimes poorly kept records, while in some places no records could be found, in which cases the memory of relatives was drawn upon, and memory is not always reliable.

I shall be glad to have any errors or omissions pointed out, so that if at any time in the future a new edition is made, they can be noted and corrected.

DESCENT.

From all that I can learn, there can be no doubt that the Starts of America are of English descent. It is a very old name as shown by several county records in England. It is now a familiar name in the southern part of the country from which our ancestors came.

EARLY RECORDS.

There were Starts in this country very early in its settlement. I find traces of the name in Maine in the records of York County. Edward Start is spoken of in York, Me. as early as 1652. He was a fisherman and farmer as were most of the early settlers on the coast of Maine. A record is made of his purchase of land in 1653, also in 1666. He died in 1671 leaving a wife, one son Thomas, and three daughters, Sarah who married a Wright, Elizabeth, and Mary who married a Portadoc. His estate was settled in 1673.

I find a John Start, who was a ferryman in Scarboro Maine, in 1661. He died in 1686 at Black Point, and from the settlement of his estate I infer that there were no children. In 1679 there was a William Start in Scarboro, Maine, who was mentioned as a witness to a bond of Nathan Bedford.

I find mention of an Aaron Start, in Hartford, Ct. in 1639, a youth who was made a freeman in 1669 and died in 1685. He had sons John, William and Aaron. In 1670 there is a record that fifty acres of land was granted to one Aaron Start by the General Court of Connecticut.

In the list of Revolutionary War soldiers in Connecticut, there is mention of David Start who was in Capt. Brigham's company in 1777, and a Stephen Start in Capt. Brown's company the same year.

I have not been able to trace any connection between WILLIAM START, the ancestor of the Starts whose record is made in this pamphlet, and the Starts of York County, Maine, and of Connecticut. I find William Start at Ipswich, Mass., in 1717, the year of his first marriage. I can learn nothing of him previous to this date. He may have been a descendant of the Starts in Maine, as he was a mariner, the Captain of a vessel called the "Mayflower," or he may have come directly from England and settled in Ipswich.

ARRANGEMENT OF THIS GENEALOGY.

I have adopted a very simple plan in the arrangement of this genealogy. As will be seen, the first generation has but one person, William Start, and his children, George,

Sarah, William and Ann form the second generation, and George his oldest child is the one, as will be seen, who was the father of the three sons, WILLIAM, GEORGE and JOHN from whom descended all those whose genealogy is traced in this record. I have not been able to trace the descendants of the two daughters of William Start, his son William probably died without issue. If anyone interested in the study of genealogy, who may see this pamphlet, can furnish any data in relation to the before mentioned Starts, including Sarah of Ipswich who married a Wells and her sister Ann who married first a Fellows, and second Stephen Brown, I shall be glad to have them communicate with me at 30 West St., Boston, Mass.

THE ORDER.

After the first and second generations I have proceeded, beginning with the third generation, making three General Parts quite distinct from each other and they may be easily traced. I have treated William Start and his descendants, then George Start and his descendants, then John Start and his descendants. In each case they have been carried out as fully as I have been able to secure data and in the order of the successive generations.

A number is given to each name as it comes into the record, and the same number is continued in parenthesis if the name appears again. The † placed opposite a name indicates that it will appear the second time. The Roman numerals are used only to number the children in each separate family; b. stands for born, m. married, d. died.

In an appendix I have mentioned a family of Starts that have come to this country from England during the present century. I have also given an account of another branch of the Start family which I have not been able to trace out. It is possible that in time more light will be thrown upon this limb of the Start tree, and also upon those whose names appear in Connecticut.

There are some families that are not carried out as fully as I could wish, but this is owing to the great difficulty I have experienced in securing data.

FIRST GENERATION.

1. i. WILLIAM START. Have not been able to learn where he was born or when. The first record I find of him is at Ipswich Mass., where he married Oct. 14, 1717, Mercy Figg. She died July 8, 1725 and he married for second wife Deborah Loud in Feb. 1726. She died Jan. 24, 1758. He was a mariner. In 1729 he had leave to build a wharf in Ipswich. He owned a schooner called the "May Flower." He died Nov. 26, 1754. Their children were:

3. ii. SARAH } married a Wells, and was a widow in 1758.
4. iii. WILLIAM, baptised June 4, 1721. Probably died before 1758 as he is not mentioned in the settlement of his father's estate.
5. iv. ANN, baptised July 14, 1723. She married Nathan Fellows Feb 5, 1742. He was drowned March 15, 1743; then she married Stephen Brown of Ipswich. I have no further account of her, except in 1758 she is mentioned in the settlement of her father's estate.

I find no record of children by the second marriage, and none are mentioned in the settlement of the estate and the disposal of it in 1758. The estate was not settled until after the death of the second wife.

APPENDIX.

In 1835 a John Start came from Plymouth, England, settled in Hamilton, Canada. He was a lawyer and practiced forty-five years in Canadian Courts. In 1862 he moved to Buffalo, N. Y. where he died in 1880, aged 77 years. He had a daughter, Clara Start, who married Herbert S. Young in Buffalo, N. Y., also a son John E. Start, a lawyer. He is dead but two sons of his, Charles and Harry, are lawyers in Canada.

Just as the foregoing genealogy was ready for the press, I learned of another branch of the Start family, which seems to be distinct from the lines the compiler has been following out. I give what I am able to learn, from Mr. J. Howard Start of Chicago, of this branch, and at a later date the record can be made more complete. The first mentioned in this branch are three brothers, Wm. Hadley Start born in 1768, Nathan Start and Solomon Start. Wm. Hadley Start married in Maryland and lived on the South Branch of the Potomac River near White Post, Va., and moved to Circleville, Ohio, in 1815. He served in the war of 1812 and was in Baltimore, Md. on the day Gen. Ross was killed. His brother Nathan is reported to have lived in one of the New England States. His brother Solomon also moved to Ohio and died there. William Hadley Start had several children all of them dead except John Start who now lives in Englewood, Ill. John Start is the father of several daughters by a first wife, and by a second marriage has four sons, Charles, Samuel, George L., and J. Howard Start, to whom I am indebted for this information.

I do not learn who the father of Wm. Hadley Start was or where he came from. He may have been a descendant of the Starts found in Connecticut, or those of Maine, both of whom are referred to in the Introduction, or he and his brothers may have come from England to Maryland or Virginia. I cannot delay this publication to trace out this branch, but if anyone into whose hands this pamphlet may fall can give any information in regard to the origin of this branch of Starts or further information in regard to the descendants, I shall be glad to follow out any clue and publish a statement of such facts as may be gathered.
